THE ART OF TIMELESS LUXURY

BASEMENT

TIMELESS
LUXURY.
INFINITE
LEGACY.

Ananta

WHERE MEANING MEETS MAGNIFICENCE

In a city defined by devotion and regal lineage, owning a home at its most revered address is a privilege few attain.

Ananta carries this honour through a name rooted in Sri Anantha Padmanabha - the eternal deity of the famed Padmanabhaswamy Temple, the spiritual heart that gave Thiruvananthapuram its identity.

Here, heritage meets a new expression of refined living, crafted for those who seek more than a home - a connection to the city's soul.

Ananta reflects the calm, balance, and elegance of Thiruvananthapuram.

One home per floor - crafted with light, proportion, and refined detail.

A residence not built for display, but for legacy.

Built around a simple idea: that true luxury is calm, spacious, and deeply personal.

Every curve, every finish, every proportion reflects a design philosophy centred on balance and longevity.

Ananta is not merely a place to live, but a place to arrive - to slow down, to reconnect, and to live with intention.

ANANTA

AT THE HEART OF CITY'S SACRED
Heritage

Neighboring the Travancore Palace lies a precinct shaped by centuries of devotion and royal legacy. Here, heritage and modern life meet with quiet dignity, an address held by generations, reserved for a discerning few.

Ananta
A Glimpse Inside

Ananta brings together distinguished architectural vision and refined craftsmanship, creating a residence where heritage and modernity meet with quiet confidence.

The façade draws from classical symmetry, interpreted with minimalist restraint. The structure is reinforced for strength, engineered for silence. Materials chosen not just for display, but for endurance.

With one residence per floor, privacy becomes a rare luxury - homes that feel personal, intentional, and unquestionably exclusive.

Commanding in presence, yet calm in expression. Ananta mirrors the individuals who will call it home.
